Additional Uniform Information

Appropriateness: The administration reserves the right to make discretionary judgment regarding the appropriateness of student hair, dress, and fashion not explicitly covered in this dress code. The final interpretation remains the responsibility of the administration. If attire is deemed in poor taste or inappropriate, the School Administrator will call the student's parents to bring appropriate clothing for him/her. The student will wait in the office until the parent arrives with the clothing. This will result in an equivalent of a demerit and/or detention as well as missed classwork while the student waits in the office for the parent. Please see the Parent-Student Handbook for Cornerstone's entire Uniform Policy.

Belt: If the student's uniform bottoms have belt loops present, a solid brown or solid black belt (with a standard belt buckle) is required to be worn. Canvas belts that are part of the shorts or pants are acceptable.

Dress Down Days: Occasionally throughout the school year, Cornerstone's Administration Team may schedule Student Dress Down Days, allowing students to wear blue jeans to school. On these permitted Dress Down Days, students may wear blue jeans that are loose fitting and that do not have any holes or rips. All scheduled Dress Down Days will be published on the school's monthly calendar and emailed to parents.

Extreme Dressing Styles: No "extreme styles" will be permitted. This includes non-natural looking hair colors or styles, visible tattoos, neon nail polish, spiked belts or bracelets, high boots, fishnet hose, etc. Any clothing or style that could be considered "extreme" will be under the discretion and interpretation of the school's Principal.
